  - Scholars, however, agree that the quote ends at verse 15 and that John adds commentary in verses 16-21.

The Father's Love (3:16-17)

- “For God [the Father] so loved the world.”

The Father's Love (3:16-17)

- “For God [the Father] so loved the world.”
  - While the Father is angry toward sinners, Jesus humbly gave himself for their forgiveness.

The Father's Love (3:16-17)

- “For God [the Father] so loved the world.”
  - While the Father is angry toward sinners, Jesus humbly gave himself for their forgiveness.
  - This does not mean that the Father is angry, Jesus is gracious, and Jesus intervened and stopped the Father.

  - “For God the Father so loved the world,” and this puts the attention on him rather than us.

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- The gracious gift of God does not imply automatic salvation for all human beings.

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- The gracious gift of God does not imply automatic salvation for all human beings.
- Two paths lie before us and every being must choose one or the other.

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- Two paths lie before us and every being must choose one or the other.
  - Path one is believing in Jesus Christ.
  - Path two is disbelieving in Jesus Christ.
  - The consequences of choosing one or the other are opposite, serious, and eternal.

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- If we believe in Jesus, we are not condemned, rather, we are free from his judgment against sin.

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- If we believe in Jesus, we are not condemned, rather, we are free from his judgment against sin.
- If we do not believe in Jesus, we are condemned already and remain so forever unless we believe.

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- If we believe in Jesus, we are not condemned, rather, we are free from his judgment against sin.
- If we do not believe in Jesus, we are condemned already and remain so forever unless we believe.
- Why do some believe and others do not?

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- If we believe in Jesus, we are not condemned, rather, we are free from his judgment against sin.
- If we do not believe in Jesus, we are condemned already and remain so forever unless we believe.
- Why do some believe and others do not?
  - Some believe because of the grace of God (1:12-13).

- If we do not believe in Jesus, we are condemned already and remain so forever unless we believe.
- Why do some believe and others do not?
  - Some believe because of the grace of God (1:12-13).
  - There's more to the story and John tells us about this "more" in John 3:19-21.

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- The light has come, but many loved the darkness.

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- The light has come, but many loved the darkness.
  - Our actions shape our affections, and sin gives us a kind of “spiritual leprosy.”

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- Those who “do the truth,” love the light.
  - Those who love the light, live in the light (1 John 1:6-7)
  - Believers long to come into the light in order to boast in God, not themselves.

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- How do lovers of the light come to the light?

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- How do lovers of the light come to the light?
  - They chose to believe in Jesus.

Belief, Unbelief, and the Consequences

- How do lovers of the light come to the light?
  - They chose to believe in Jesus.
  - God graciously acted on their behalf (John 1:12-13).
